

The nature from the window (Nil Hernández Cuenca 2 Bach. C)

Be prepared for these weeks
For these times of quarantine
Because the nature from the window,
is all we can see.

If you are a lucky person
You'll live in front of the sea but if you live in a city be thankful if you see a tree.

There're also those ones who live in the mountain
The better place to be
At these times that the nature from the window,
Is all we can see.

Animals are asking themselves
Where the humans will be?
They don't know what's happening
But they feel a bit more free.

The globe is resurrecting
In a couple of weeks
But we can only see it on the computer
Or at much at the TV.

So, I hope that the world becomes aware
And respectful as somebody can be
Now that the nature from the window,
Is all we can see.
